

CRIMINAL DOCKET.

THE USUAL NUMBER OF ENTRIES FOR THE DAY.

A Couple of Indian Territory Jurors Arrested in the Court Room for Murder.

Jealousy Leads to a Fight Between a Man and His Wife, in Which the Woman Gets Killed.

A Drunken Row in a West Virginia Town—An Illinois Murderer Convicted—A County Treasurer Arrested—Minor Offenses.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

SIGNAL OFFICE, WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 27.—The highest temperature was 62°, the lowest 32°, and the mean 47°. With warm, cloudless weather, light southerly to fresh southerly winds and a slight fall in the pressure.

Last year, on Nov. 27, the highest temperature was 42°, the lowest 27°, and the mean 35°, and two years ago the corresponding temperatures were 47°, 30° and 35°.

FRED L. JOHNSON, Observer.

WASH. DEPT. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27, 8 p. m.—Forecast until 8 p. m. Friday:

Fair till Saturday; slightly warmer; variable winds.

For Kansas—Fair till Saturday; slightly cooler, except stationary in eastern portion; northerly winds.

WYNN, I. T., Nov. 27.—When the roll call on Tuesday morning was answered in the court-room at Tishomingo, two petit jurors, Robt. Brown and Willie Foster, were arrested, charged with the murder of Wm. A. Johnson, a grand juror. The scene of the murder is about 200 yards from the capital building, near the highway. It is evident that Johnson made a desperate fight for his life. When the body was found, it had been eaten the face entirely off. His body was literally hacked to pieces with knives, while his right hand showed three gashes on the palm, when he had clutched the knife to save himself. One gash near the spine showed that while he was struggling with one assailant, the other had stabbed him from behind. When arrested the petit jurors' clothing was very bloody, and their hats also. They stoically deny the charge. It is not creating as much excitement as would be supposed, and, with the tardiness of Indian courts and slack methods of procedure, time alone can tell what will be done.

JEALOUSY AND MURDER.

ATCHESON, Kan., Nov. 27.—George Weston, an expressman, quarreled with his wife last night over the latter's alleged infidelity with George Annans, colored. The quarrel occurred in a barn in the rear of Weston's house. Weston used a hammer for a weapon, and his wife used a hatchet, with which they raised blows upon each other's head and shoulders, the combat continuing for some time. Finally, a blow from the husband's weapon produced a wound which rendered Mrs. Weston insensible, and from the effects of which she afterwards died. Weston was badly injured, his face and head being covered with ugly gashes. He was arrested and will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

A DOOMED TRIO.

CHICKEN, O., Nov. 27.—Henry Popp, the Stark county murderer, and Joseph Smith, the Danke county murderer, who were to have been executed at the penitentiary tonight, between 12 and 2 o'clock, have been granted a reprieve by Gov. Campbell to December 10. Elmer Sharkey, the Preble county murderer, has been sentenced to hang the same night, which makes three executions at that time. There should be further interference on the part of the governor. All arrangements had been made for the executions tonight. The usual three men were in the yard. The gloom incident to the approaching execution was broken by a man calling from the number Corbin's Hardware, a life man, convicted in Clark county in 1873, who was made the beneficiary of the Thompson-Hartman estate, and who had a perfect record, and asked the privilege of remaining over the holiday with the prisoners, which was granted.

A DRUNKEN ROW.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 27.—There was a terrible row at Mannington, Iron county, last night, in which two men were fatally wounded, and a large number of others injured. About 200 men were engaged in the trouble. Scores of shots were fired. The trouble occurred at the depot, and the participants were John Smith, a colored man who had been to Fairmont, the county seat, in attendance upon the grand jury. All were more or less under the influence of liquor, and there was trouble on the cars. When they got out at the depot, the trouble was renewed, and three or four men attacked Mar. Calver, a son of Dr. Calvert, and beat him. Calver, however, then Frank Johnson offered successive rewards of $25, $50 and $100 for some one to hit him. John Kelly, of Clayville, La., said he would accompany the man and shoot him in the left breast near the heart. Revolvers were then drawn all around, and the firing commenced. A passenger says that when he left, Calver and Johnson were dying, and the most intense excitement prevailed.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 27.—There were many sensational developments in the Seybold bank robbery case yesterday. Seybold, charged on the stand that Capt. John D. Overton, counsel for the bank, who is assisting in the prosecution, advised him to leave town, and told him that the bank was not going to pay him. The defendant also charged that the bank was not going to pay him. The case should be fixed up. Both of these officials entered into a heated discussion, and offered testimony to disprove what Seybold said. Sheriff Stearns testified that Seybold told him that the money missing from the bank was given him in full of the bank's debt. He also testified that he saw Seybold take the package home, opened it, and put the money in his collar. Evidence was introduced in the evening and the case went to the jury.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 27.—The body of Frank Lancaster, a colored man, was found here, with a wound in his head, and his throat cut. Lancaster came here Thursday from Odessa, where he had been employed as a cook, and left in a team driven by Morris. Morris brought the team back and displayed considerable money. He also boasted that he had killed a man, and the wagon and horse, which were returned with were covered with blood. Morris took the west-bound passenger train yesterday, but was captured at Wheeling.

A CUTTING AFFRAY.

NESTON, Kan., Nov. 27.—At 11 o'clock today, on Main street of this city, John Godfrey was almost disemboweled by Red Woodford, a colored man with whom he had an altercation. Godfrey was injured, cut, and run against Woodford. Who slashed him several times across the abdomen. Godfrey's wounds are very serious, and perhaps fatal. The man made his escape through a crowd of onlookers, and has not been captured.

CLOSING : OUT : SALE!

The Entire Stock of INNES &amp; ROSS can be Bought for Fifty Cents on the Dollar.

AT JUST HALF PRICE!

Must be Closed Out at Once, Prices no Object.

$75,000.00

Worth of Elegant Goods. You Know, Everybody Knows the Grand Reputation of this firm for Giving the Best Goods for the Least Money. Now, these Best Goods will all be Sacrificed at Prices to Suit the most Fastidious.

GRAND OPENING WEDNESDAY, NOV. 26.

Respectfully, T. P. HAMM, Manager.

JAILED FOR STEALING.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—John G. Morse was placed in jail last evening by Deputy Sheriff A. Collins, on a warrant charging him with having embezzled $10,000 from the Jesse French Piano company, No. 304 Olive street. The accused man is well connected, and is the son of John H. Morse, of Vincennes, Jefferson county, Mo., who was at one time the Republican candidate for congress in the tenth district. Business speculations and gambling are the causes of young Morse's downfall. Morse has been in the employ of the company eleven months.

Cures in fifteen minutes Preston's "Red-Ake."

GUILTY OF MURDER.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 27.—In the trial of Daniel North, of Pontiac, in the killing of City Marshal Hodge, of Pontiac, last July, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, fixing the penalty at death. North's attorney moved for a new trial.

Who suffer? Preston's "Red-Ake" will cure you.

EMBEZZLEMENT.

GREENE, N. Y., Nov. 27.—W. B. Weeks, ex-treasurer of Greene county, has been arrested, charged with embezzlement. The fraud is said to have been effected by altering the tax receipts. The shortage is $1,000, and will amount to several thousands.

It cures headache only—Preston's "Red-Ake."

ANDERSONVILLE.

The Famous Prison Pen Now the Property of a Grand Army Post.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 27.—The site of the old Andersonville prison is now the property of E. S. Jones Post, Grand Army of the Republic, of Macon. Commander J. D. Norford, of the E. S. Jones Post, returned yesterday from Anderson, where the formal transfer of the property was made. The grounds, which were begun a year ago, included eight acres of land, on which were located the stockade, fortifications, rifle pits, and so forth, of the historic prison. The land was bought from George Kennedy, negro, and the purchase price was $1,000. In thirty days the work of converting the site into a national U. S. A. R. park will be begun. The money for this purpose has already been contributed by Grand Army men in Georgia and elsewhere. The purchase will be surrounded by a hundred-foot driveway and a wide avenue will lead to the railway station. Walks, drives, fountains, beds of flowers and rare shrubs and trees will be plentiful, and in the center of an elevated will be erected an elegant club house for the use of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and their guests. Each point of special interest will be marked by a suitable monument or building, and at Providence spring a large amphitheatre will be erected for the holding of Decoration day exercises. The superintendent, J. M. Brown, of the Andersonville national cemetery, will overlook the work.

Use Salvation Oil at once for severe headache and neuralgia. Prices only 25 cents.

LOST AT SEA.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Norwegian bark Neptunia, Captain Tobiasen, to London from Quebec, reports that while lying during a gale off Dunghness, Sunday evening, she saw a large west-bound steamer run to the eastward, capsized and foundered. A heavy sea was running at the time. No crew of the steamer was seen to be found.

Go where you will, you will always find Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, everywhere.

Prof. J. S. Gilley, of Jericho, Vt., says "I regard Hood's Sarsaparilla as invaluable for catarrh."

KOECH'S REMEDY.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The Post publishes a statement by Dr. Danielus, a colleague of Dr. Levy, in which he admits that 500 marks were asked and paid for a single injection of Dr. Koch's lymph. The money was not paid to Dr. Levy, but to Drs. Cornel and Dengel. It is reported that Prof. Koch has declined to enter supply either Levy or Dengel with lymph.

A case of superficial lupus has been cured by injections of Prof. Koch's lymph without subsequent surgical aid. Numerous detached places in the skin of the patient, where formerly there were lupus marks, are now again visible, and the hair is growing again over the portion of the skin.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The French government will not allow the importation into France of Koch's lymph on the ground that the importation mediates the composition of which is not known, is illegal, a law prohibiting such importations being in existence.

Bradycytine is a medicine to cure Headache.

VALENTINE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Yale has downed Princeton. The football game at Eastern park, Brooklyn, in which the interest of every college man and every lover of football has been centered for months past, has ended in a decisive victory for Yale.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, fire broke out in the Posters Dry Goods company's building, at the corner of Fourth and Sibley streets, and caused damage of at least $100,000, before the flames were subdued.

THE FRENCH DEBT.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—M. P. Batin has presented to the budget committee a report on the financial situation of France. This shows that the estimated debt of the country is 2,300,000,000 francs of nominal capital and 2,500,000,000 francs of actual capital, the nominal rate of interest being 3.50 per cent and the actual rate 4.60 per cent. "This," continues the report, "is the largest public debt in the world, but French credit is sufficiently solid in view of French stock being reckoned as 2 per cent."

THE BRAZILIANS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Admiral Dacosta, the Brazilian navy, and his staff, arrived here from Washington, and were met by the government of Brazil, as a token of gratitude for the recognition of the republic of Brazil by this government.

Immediate, harmless—Preston's "Red-Ake."

Rulpho-Saline Water Is a mild laxative and a sparkling morning drink—Bottled at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

THE FLOUR OUTPUT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 27.—The Northwestern Miller says: The millers manufactured a very large amount of flour again last week, the figures not having been exceeded more than three times before. The aggregate of the output was 188,170 barrels, averaging 31,361 barrels daily, against 134,076 barrels the previous week, and 133,575 barrels for the corresponding time in 1889. A more settled condition of financial conditions has increased confidence, and with wheat higher, there has been a decided improvement in the demand for flour. The most active call was from eastern cities, though usually buyers were loath to pay any advance. Bakers received a good deal of attention from foreigners, and there is liberal selling. Low grades, which have been of rather slow sale lately, were likewise in good demand for export. The higher prices asked prevented sales from selling very well abroad. Less firmness in wheat has made flour much less active for two days past.

Bradycytine cured Headaches for M. H. Fuller, Providence, R. I.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The advice received by the war department today from the seat of the threatened Indian trouble are reassuring, and indicate a gradual subsiding of the cloud of danger. The war department officials believe that the presence of the increased military force in the locality is beginning to have a salutary effect on the turbulent spirits among the Indians.

Cures while you wait—Preston's "Red-Ake."

FIRES.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—The steamboat T. P. Leathers, Capt. W. Lamb, bound from Lakeport, Miss., for New Orleans, was destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock this morning near Port Adams, Miss. The boat and cargo are a total loss. The personnel and four passengers all escaped unhurt. The boat was valued at $20,000 and insured for $20,000. She had about 2,800 bales of cotton and considerable other freight on board.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, fire broke out in the Posters Dry Goods company's building, at the corner of Fourth and Sibley streets, and caused damage of at least $100,000, before the flames were subdued.

THE FRENCH DEBT.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—M. P. Batin has presented to the budget committee a report on the financial situation of France. This shows that the estimated debt of the country is 2,300,000,000 francs of nominal capital and 2,500,000,000 francs of actual capital, the nominal rate of interest being 3.50 per cent and the actual rate 4.60 per cent. "This," continues the report, "is the largest public debt in the world, but French credit is sufficiently solid in view of French stock being reckoned as 2 per cent."

THE BRAZILIANS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Admiral Dacosta, the Brazilian navy, and his staff, arrived here from Washington, and were met by the government of Brazil, as a token of gratitude for the recognition of the republic of Brazil by this government.

Immediate, harmless—Preston's "Red-Ake."

A MILD LAXATIVE.

Rulpho-Saline Water Is a mild laxative and a sparkling morning drink—Bottled at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

THE FLOUR OUTPUT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 27.—The Northwestern Miller says: The millers manufactured a very large amount of flour again last week, the figures not having been exceeded more than three times before. The aggregate of the output was 188,170 barrels, averaging 31,361 barrels daily, against 134,076 barrels the previous week, and 133,575 barrels for the corresponding time in 1889. A more settled condition of financial conditions has increased confidence, and with wheat higher, there has been a decided improvement in the demand for flour. The most active call was from eastern cities, though usually buyers were loath to pay any advance. Bakers received a good deal of attention from foreigners, and there is liberal selling. Low grades, which have been of rather slow sale lately, were likewise in good demand for export. The higher prices asked prevented sales from selling very well abroad. Less firmness in wheat has made flour much less active for two days past.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The advice received by the war department today from the seat of the threatened Indian trouble are reassuring, and indicate a gradual subsiding of the cloud of danger. The war department officials believe that the presence of the increased military force in the locality is beginning to have a salutary effect on the turbulent spirits among the Indians.

Cures while you wait—Preston's "Red-Ake."

FIRES.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—The steamboat T. P. Leathers, Capt. W. Lamb, bound from Lakeport, Miss., for New Orleans, was destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock this morning near Port Adams, Miss. The boat and cargo are a total loss. The personnel and four passengers all escaped unhurt. The boat was valued at $20,000 and insured for $20,000. She had about 2,800 bales of cotton and considerable other freight on board.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, fire broke out in the Posters Dry Goods company's building, at the corner of Fourth and Sibley streets, and caused damage of at least $100,000, before the flames were subdued.

THE FRENCH DEBT.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—M. P. Batin has presented to the budget committee a report on the financial situation of France. This shows that the estimated debt of the country is 2,300,000,000 francs of nominal capital and 2,500,000,000 francs of actual capital, the nominal rate of interest being 3.50 per cent and the actual rate 4.60 per cent. "This," continues the report, "is the largest public debt in the world, but French credit is sufficiently solid in view of French stock being reckoned as 2 per cent."

John—Did you pick a winner at the races yesterday?

Brown (nods)—Now, a winner picked me.—Washington Star.

WELL NAMED.

Dealer—Here is a new cologne of my own make. I call it the "Dollar Perfume" because it is composed of a hundred scents.—Munsey's Weekly.

A MAN WITHOUT FRIENDS.

Customer—Have you anything to cure a cold?

Druggist—Heaven! Have you no friends?—Puck.

CERTAINLY.

Philosopher—What induces men to marry?

Cynic—The girls do.—New York Herald.

BEECHAM'S PILLS CURE SICK HEADACHE.

New Comer—I see that the coming campaign will be an active one. Who is your choice for the state legislature?

Kansas—Mr. Hooks. He would make the best legislator of any man in the country.

New Comer—Hooks! I've heard a great deal about him. You are the first person I have heard say a word in his favor. How does this happen?

Kansas—Well, you see, Mr. Hooks—Munsey's Weekly.

PATRICK'S BURGERS.

Lady (suddenly returned from Europe)—Patrick, what does this mean? I left you in charge of our residence while abroad, and I find the front yard filled with clothes lines, and every line full of clothes. Our beautiful place looks like a Chinese laundry. You promised me that your wife would not take in washing.

Patrick—We haven't taken in any washing, mum. We've only been taking in hanging out.

If you have headache try Preston's "Red-Ake."

BOUND TO DUE.

"I thought I'd just drop in, dear boy, knowing that you were having a few friends to dinner and hearing that there were just thirteen. You know your wife is a superstitious about that number."

"Quite a mistake, my dear fellow; we are just twelve."

WELL, I'LL SAY ANYWAY.

"Well, I'll say anyway, if only to laugh your wife out of her wits."—Judge.

AN INTERESTING FACT.

One reason why the number seven is considered sacred is that there are seven holes in a man's head—two eyes, two ears, two nostrils, and the mouth. Another thing about it is that a man can't live as a rule, with an eighth hole in his head. If you don't believe it try Dr. Munsey's Weekly.

The plan of body ore in small electric arcs to increase their power at a less expense than that of extra current has been effectively carried out by means of hollow carbons. An added cost of 6 per cent is said to give in this way a light equal to one and one-half times that of the ordinary

The Wild Honey Bee, a Rare Forerunner of Growing Civilization.

That abrupt and positive insect known as the honey bee is eminently a creature of civilization. It finds neither pleasure nor profit in savagery, and when you note one of these indefatigable individuals unobtrusively some rich flower you may be sure the church and the school house are not far away. There are certain forms of animal and vegetable life which flourish only in concert with civilization. The bees have been mentioned, and as a sample of the latter white clover, which may be termed the natural food for the honey bee, might be pointed to. The honey bee has a requirement which confines its range to the timbered districts. It must have some hollow tree for residence purposes.

As long as civilization, liberally speaking, was in the woods, the bee went with it. The earlier settlers and the bee were hand in hand, and the former planted the latter and the latter stung the former with equal persistence through all the changing seasons of the year. The Indians realized in the advent of the bee the beginning of their end. They knew it as the forerunner of their fate, but, nevertheless, employed themselves in earnest quest of the honey it was known to represent, and for which dripping sweet commodity the aboriginal relish was great. Western Missouri was perhaps the greatest bee country that ever existed.

It was here that the tree growth found its last expression in the sparse and scrubby oak openings which, in happy alternation of tree and grass and sunlight, afforded vast fields for bee ambition to unfold itself. It was here, too, the bee said goodbye to the white man as he pushed out on the prairie. Here, the tree ceased, and here, the prairie, the bee ceased also. They could go no further. So, as you followed year with new communities of bees following hard the old, and all checked and held by the eastern boundary of the timbered prairie, there came at last a day in those parts when a bee was swinging in every clover bloom and every hollow tree possessed its buzzing commonwealth.

Bees hunting came into various fashions. The method was simple and primitive. A little, fluffy patch of cotton was fastened to his back with a paste of honey. He was released, and his flight narrowly watched. One of the most worthy characteristics of this admirable insect became the basis of its overwork. A honey bee means business. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

It took the shortest and most direct route and made a bee line of it. So was its strength its weakness. The bee hunter got his direction from the flight of the bee, and usually had little difficulty in walking straight to the tree. It was then filled with an acrid and the store of comb and honey taken possession of. The bee of the tree attacked made life, if any, restless. Working of the prairie, the hunter or the grasp abides in its make up. When ever arrived the time for home the bee proceeded thither in a straight line.

As A Rule

Your own feelings will tell you, when you are in need of a tonic or Blood purifier. A lack of energy, a tired feeling, depressed spirits are good indications that the blood is sluggish and your system is out of order.

"I HAVE USED S. S. S. FOR DEBILITY, NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, CHILLS AND FEVER, AND HAVE FOUND IT TO BE THE BEST TONIC AND APPETIZER I HAVE EVER USED. IT ALSO PREVENTED THE RETURN OF THE CHILLS." A. J. ANYLIN, EUREKA, SPRINGS, ARK. Books on Blood and Skin Diseases free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

How so many enthusiastic words—some Cornish coast to complete, to their own profit, the depopulation of their neighbors. As to whether the bees were taught this lesson by man, or the latter gained it from the bees, there is some difference of opinion, and an attempt will be made to settle the question here, but sure it is there was something sully human in the promptitude with which the disaster of the one was made the advantage of the other.—Kansas City Star.

CORNERS IN FLOWERS.

While flowers in some instances serve to express good will to men they are often the cause of strife among those who deal in them. "Flowers are just like stocks," a leading florist said. "They are not only up today and down to-morrow, owing to the market being under or over stocked, but dealers get up corners in them. No sooner is it known that a certain dealer has a large order to fill of a particular flower than some of the others at once buy up all in the market so that he perhaps cannot fill the order, and in any event has to pay so much for the flower that he loses money. Once last season I lost a large order in that way. The man who had given it to me happened to tell another florist what the florist was doing and that florist rival at once bought up all in the market. Another flower had to be substituted, and I was a big pot of money out of pocket."—New York Sun.

AN UNTIMELY END.

The following obituary notice on a postal card tells the story of a journalistic birth and death:

DEATH.—At Lexington, Ore., Oct. 18, 1890, Leggett W. Budget, aged 105 weeks. In order to escape the grounds of becoming a leading chronicler upon the rising tide of death, it chose with bare bones to make its own death while yet it could pay for its own burial.

"The hands of the above will drift over the grave, but no stretch from its carcass will float on the wave."

Editor Press: Dear Sir—Accept our thanks for your courtesy in exchanging with our little Budget, and allow us to express the hope that you may never know the limitations of pulling down your office sign. Respectfully, J. W. WATSON.

—Philadelphia Press.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.